

Someone in town would gladly pay you a dollar more per week for that room than your present landlord pays. Don't you think a want ad. would pay?

THE SALT LAKE TRIBUNE

The first link in many a big chain of transactions has been a want ad. And usually the want ad. links are to be found for the whole length of the chain.

APPROPRIATION BILL IS SIGNED

Governor Cutler Also Approves The New Juvenile Court Measure.

JUDGE BROWN A CANDIDATE.

Understood That Present Head of Child Rescue Work Would Be His Own Successor.

Thirty-eight New Laws Go to Secretary Of State Today—Twenty-five More to Act Upon.

That legislative duties do not end with the permanent death of the legislature itself was very evident in the office of Gov. Cutler this morning. The state's chief executive and his secretary were as busy today as was the legislature during the busiest hours of its work.

And it was all because of the stack of bills the lawmakers piled up on the governor's desk the day they left for their homes. There were big bills and little bills, but they all need to be looked over, inspected carefully, and signed or rejected. The time limit on the work is midnight Tuesday, and this is by a clock which refuses to cease working as did that of the seventh assembly when it ran to the limit of its legal existence.

THIRTY-EIGHT NEW BILLS.

The governor made steady progress with his big list of bills today. Thirty-eight were sent into the office of the secretary of state approved, one was vetoed, and there still remains about 25 to be acted upon.

CAN GET MONEY NOW.

As a result of this morning's work by the chief executive, parties interested in state appropriations need no longer speculate as to what they are to receive, as the bill was approved and sent to the secretary of state, who will at once allow checks against the various funds provided. No important items were struck out of the big bill, according to the information given out by Secy. Willard Done, as it was not decided this year that the bill was not too large for the state to carry with the prospects of an increased revenue.

NEW JUVENILE COURT LAW.

Another important bill in the collection headed today is the new juvenile court law, known as S. B. 67, by Benner S. Smith. The bill was held up for a time in the house, but finally passed. It calls for a commission composed of the governor, the attorney general, and the state superintendent of public instruction to act as an appointing body, and provides ways and means by which an undesirable judge may be removed from office. It is understood that Willis Brown is exerting all the influence at his disposal to get the bill passed, according to the information given out by Secy. Willard Done, as it was not decided this year that the bill was not too large for the state to carry with the prospects of an increased revenue.

THE MEASURE VETOED.

The one measure vetoed this morning was H. B. 271, providing for the penalty for grand larceny. The bill made it possible for a judge to release a man convicted of grand larceny with a fine of only $50. It provided "fine or imprisonment" as the choice of penalties, and named $50 as the minimum fine.

BILLS APPROVED.

The bills approved and sent to the secretary of state are as follows:

- H. B. 184, relating to the duties of certain state officers.
- S. B. 202, relating to undertakings on appeal.
- H. B. 181, on the powers of trial courts.
- S. B. 183, making it unlawful to sell medicine containing certain drugs.
- H. B. 182, granting the right of co-operation between the state and national governments to preserve the resources of the west.
- H. B. 185, providing that portraits be painted of Gov. Wells and Gov. Cutler, the funds to come from the governor's contingent expenses.
- H. J. 35, memorializing the secretary of the interior to the effect that Spring Lake would make a splendid fish hatchery for bass, to be used as a food fish in Utah.
- H. B. 186, providing the office of city engineers an office of record for the filing of plans, maps and charts.
- H. J. R. 4, providing for new counties, methods of creating them and ways to designate their boundaries.
- S. B. 183, appropriating $2125 to P. T. Farnsworth, Jr., for services performed as assistant to the attorney-general.
- S. B. 218, requiring the state food and dairy commissioner to inspect slaughter houses in Utah.
- S. B. 208, providing a county road and school fund from the income of forest reserves within the state.
- H. B. 183, establishing a board of veterinary examiners.
- H. B. 182, relating to teachers' institutes.
- H. J. 224, regulating the methods of procedure in the state land office.
- S. J. R. 5, proposing a constitution amendment relating to the taxation of oil and gas.
- S. B. 223 fixing the salaries of members of the board of equalization.
- H. B. 162, fish and game law.
- H. B. 241, providing for a commission for the Alaska-Yukon exposition.
- S. B. 206, providing a commission for the Jamestown exposition, with a total of $10,000 for expenditures.
- H. B. 309, providing commission for New York International Mineral exhibit.
- S. B. 219, establishing board of horse commissioners.
- S. B. 188, providing that the county clerk of each county must forward a certified statement of the names of certain state officers, to the secretary of state.
- S. B. 210, requiring the state board of examiners to publish biennial reports of certain state officers.
- S. B. 148, allowing the state board of health to make regulations regarding the sanitation of public buildings.
- S. B. 222, relating to qualifications for members of the state board of health.
- S. B. 196, providing for a method of canvassing ballots cast in a bond election.
- H. B. 188, changing the name of the Deseret Agricultural and Manufacturing society to the State Union.
- S. B. 209, abolishing the

VIGILANCE COMMITTEE WARNS PATTERSON ANARCHIST

New York, March 25.—Ludovico Camaneta, editor of "La Question Sociale" of the English language, a paper published in New York, has received a letter signed "Vigilance Committee of the Law Society," warning him that the vigilantes "will not stand for a publication that in this city today the writer and publisher are as you overstep the boundary we will take the case in our own hands and drive you out of the city."

JAP STEEL EXPERTS ARRIVE.

New York, March 25.—Four Japanese structural steel experts and engineers sent by the Japanese government to make a study of the conditions in the United States, England and Germany with the view of placing a ten million dollar order for steel for the Japanese navy, arrived in this city yesterday.

WOMEN AS POLICEMEN.

Ghent, Belgium, March 25.—Women are to be appointed to the police force of the city, according to the plans of Prefect of Police von Messenmeier. The prefect was the first to establish a corps of canine police and believes now that Ghent will be the best policed town in Europe, when women, men and dogs patrol the streets.

REINTEGRATION OF RAILWAYS UNDER ACT OF CONGRESS WOULD TEND TO PREVENT IMPROPER LEGISLATION.

Chicago, March 25.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Washington says: Martin A. Knapp, chairman of the interstate commerce commission, in an interview yesterday discussed the causes of Wall street distress, the evils existing in railroad management, and the remedies therefor, and expressed the opinion that the states have exceeded their constitutional rights in some of the anti-railroad legislation they have passed.

ASPECTS OF RAILROAD SITUATION.

"There are two prominent aspects of the present railroad situation, the physical and the financial," Mr. Knapp said in answer to a question. "In the first place, its causes certainly are not found in any federal legislation enacted or proposed, or in the attitude or intentions of the president. Possibly there is an underlying reason for the present Wall street flurry which has not been perceived clearly.

ROTTSCHILD'S OPINION.

London, March 25.—"There is absolutely no danger," was the reply of Lord Rothschild when questioned today by the Associated Press as to his fears that the stock exchange settlement would result in trouble. "There may be a few small failures," Lord Rothschild said, "but the situation is not as serious as is being reported. The London holders of American securities have been induced to sell there upon the report that President Roosevelt intends taking steps toward nationalizing the railroads, or at least enacting legislation that may curtail the road earnings capabilities. For the same reason some German holders of American securities have been selling in London. Then, of course, there is the panic of money from all points, but I have every confidence in the ability of the market to bridge the difficulties. One thing is certain: there is no panic in London, and there is no danger of a panic in London."
